TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE. The tugboat Cecil and the scheoner Beulahland, the latter with a portion of her waist torn away, arrived at Balti-more yesterday, after having had a nar-row escape from being lost on North Point Bar in the gale on Saturday. The tug Prudence, having been in the same storm and having been in collis-ion with the schooner while trying to get her from the beach, arrived at Chesapeske City with slight injuries. The persons on the Beulahland had a terrible experience. The schooner with a light barge ahead and the schooner Jeanette, made up a tow behind the tu Cecil, and was bound from Philadelphia to Norfolk. The fleet left Back river Friday evening, and Saturday morning about 1 o'clock encountered a terrific snew equal, with high wind and a heavy sea. The Cecil edging in toward North Point to keep under the protection of the land, struck bottom. A moment later the Beulahland struck and the schooner Jeanette had a narrow escape from col-liding with her. As it was she passed so  close aboard that she scraped off some of the serving on the main port shrouds. The light barge floated clear and it and the Jeanette were cut loose to anchor. The position of the Beulahland was bad one, for she was exposed to a sweep of fully 20 miles, and the seas breaking on board washed into the cabin and threatened to break the vessel to pieces. Captain Knowles had on board his wife and two children-a boy of eight and a girl of six—and they spent the night in the dripping cabin, while the akipper and his crew of four remained on deck to watch the first signs of the vessel breaking up, when they would have gone to the assistance of those below. The Beuishland is well-known at this port,

NON-UNION MEN EXPELLED. Six nonunion men employed by the Bell Teleghone Company, at Butte, Mont., have been deported since Monday night by mobs presumably composed of union men. Two linemen were taken across the divide Monday night and left in the woods, with warning not to return. The crowd numbered 300, Yesterday 500 men took four nonunion car penters and laborers from the new Bell building and led them toward the Jef-ferson county line. Chief of Police Wynne, with a few men, started in pur-suit. The unions of the camp, regardless of affiliation, met Monday night and denounced the injunction recently granted by Judge Hunt, of the federal court, restraining interference with or boycott of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone Company in Montana. The Bell people are putting up a new bu lding at Butte and, despite the boycott, have succeed in gitting laborers. More trouble is feared.
